

MUSICAL CLUBS DELIGHT LARGE UTICA AUDIENCE

Bates, Moore, Thompson, Reidel, Mahannah and Fleischmann Vary Program with Specialties at Annual Utica Concert

GLEE CLUB PLEASURES

Instrumental Club Proves Effective in Popular and Classical Music

The annual Utica concert of the Musical Clubs was held on Friday night, March 7th, at the Hotel Utica. The program presented was pleasingly varied in character and was arranged with effective skill. A large audience of five or six hundred was present and showed great appreciation of the work of the clubs.

Perhaps the most popular portions of the program were Russ Thompson's vocal solos, the Glee Quartette, the number played by the Instrumental Club, and Bates' and Moore's "Fifth Nocturne." Thompson's clear, sweet tenor never fails to captivate his audience, and his rendering of the old favorite, "I'll Sing Thee Songs of Araby" and "I Hear You Calling me" was delightful. The "Fifth Nocturne" began as a more or less serious violin solo, but progressed rapidly into songs of a less elevated, but highly amusing character, written specially for the occasion by Bates and Moore. The sonorous reeds and brasses of the Instrumental Club were very effective in giving the old negro spiritual "Deep River" a solemn and reverent quality, while the club later played several recent popular dance numbers with great success.

The Glee Club won much applause with its selections, some of them, like Grieg's "Landsighting" and Henschel's "Morning Hymn" being of the highest type of choral music, and others, like "Sweet Miss Mary," of a more popular nature. Effective violin and saxophone solos were given by Riedel and Mahannah, respectively. Fleischmann presented a diverting monologue called "A Word or Two."

Dancing was enjoyed after the concert until 2 o'clock. Music was furnished by the Buff and Blue Orchestra.

INTERFRATERNITY HOCKEY STILL POSSIBLE

Warm Weather Stops Games Scheduled—Schedule Announced by Manager Farrell

Recent cold weather and the prediction for "continued cold" have raised new hopes for interfraternity hockey. The schedule of games as originally planned would have been completed last week, had not warm weather been responsible for spoiling the ice. Provided the cold weather holds, Assistant Hockey Manager Farrell says that the games will be played.

The games, if played, will come in the following order: Psi Upsilon vs Lambda Xi Sigma; Theta Delta Chi vs Delta Upsilon; Delta Kappa Epsilon vs Alpha Delta Phi; Lambda Chi Alpha vs Chi Beta Sigma; Neutrals vs E. L. S.; Chi Psi vs Sigma Phi.

No men who were on either the varsity or freshmen squads when the season ended March 1, will be allowed to play in these games. If it is found possible to play some of the games on the schedule, the time when they will be played is to be announced in chapel and also posted on the gym bulletin board.

HATCH ELECTED BASKETBALL CAPTAIN

Unanimous Election Ample Warranted by Splendid Court Record—Prominent in Many Activities

John R. Hatch, '25, of Belle Harbor, N. Y., was unanimously elected next year's captain of the Hamilton College basketball team at a meeting of the squad held Monday, Mar. 3. Jack, at center, was high scorer for the team in the season just passed, getting 45 field goals and 35 fouls for a total of 125 points. He played in all of the 14 games. Everyone on the Hill agrees, with the team that elected him, that Hatch's excellent record amply warrants his election. He has been the mainstay of the quintet. His long shots, which are as good as his short ones, are combined with speed and a never-failing supply of "fist."

CAPTAIN-ELECT HATCH

Jack is one of the prominent men of his class. Besides being captain of the soccer team for next fall, and having played two years of varsity baseball, he is a member of the Executive Council and is on the editorial staff of the Royal Gabeon. He belongs to the Chi Psi fraternity.

Under Jack Hatch's leadership the prospects are bright for next year's basketball. Donald E. McBride, the coach, will lose Hamilton and McGiffin by graduation, but Payne and Marquardt, this year's forwards, will be in the line-up as well as Croasdaile, Burns, Howk and Stone.

SOCCER TEAM TO APPEAR IN SPAULDING GUIDE

We have every reason to believe that the Buff and Blue soccer team has during the past done very commendable work. At any rate, cognizance of this splendid work has been taken by the H. G. Spaulding Company, for a report of the soccer season will appear in the next issue of Spaulding's Intercollegiate Soccer Guide. This is the first time that the Spaulding people have requested a report of the season's records, of Hamilton's soccer team. The report will include a picture of the team, the schedule for the fall season of 1923, and a record of the outstanding games. The report will also include brief accounts of some of the leading players.

Hamilton Fencers Meet Defeat At Hands of Penn and Navy

Buff and Blue Swordsmen Lose Matches by Small Score on Southern Trip—Foil Team Proves Strongest Unit in Hamilton Offensive—Packer Stars for Visiting Team—Scovel Puts on Long Bout with Runner-up for Individual Championship.

Last week-end the Hamilton swordsmen traveled south on a four-day trip and met Penn and the Navy on successive days. Friday afternoon they were defeated by the U. of P. fencers by a 10-7 score, and Saturday afternoon they met defeat at the hands of the Navy, again by a 10-7 score, although the foilsmen defeated the strong Navy foil team, 5-4. The foil team proved to be the most consistent scorer with a defeat at Penn by the narrow margin of one bout, and a victory at Annapolis. Packer, '25, after dropping a close bout at Penn, won all his bouts at Annapolis, and was responsible for the foil team's victory over the Navy. His work with the foil was the outstanding performance of the trip and his record for the six bouts of the trip shows five wins and one defeat, his first defeat this year. The sabre and epee stand on an equal basis, each with one tie and one defeat.

After a stop-over in New York City Thursday night the team met U. of P. Friday afternoon at Philadelphia. The meet was run off in the small, crowded fencing room, with student judges from the two teams. This arrangement did not prove entirely satisfactory as the match was, on occasions, marred by doubtful judging. The Hamilton fencers found it necessary to adapt themselves to the Italian style used by the Penn fencers, especially marked in the foils where the sword arm is extended at all times in contrast with the French school where the arm is extended only in attack. D. Kittell, '24, had the best record in this match with a clean score of two victories in epee. The sabre men turned in one score with Captain Ogilvie's decisive victory over Stein, 5-1. Packer and Scott, '25, each took two of their three bouts. Captain Thomson was the best swordsman for Penn, turning in a clean record of three bouts in foils and breaking even in epee.

The summary:

Foils

Packer defeated Abbott, 5-2.
Packer defeated Marvin, 5-3.
Thomson defeated Packer, 5-1.
Marvin defeated G. Kittell, 5-4.
Abbott defeated Kittell, 5-4.

Steinfirst defeated Johnson, 5-3.
Applebaum defeated Johnson, 5-3.

Epee

D. Kittell defeated Thomson.
D. Kittell defeated Paillard.
Thomson defeated Scovel.
Paillard defeated Scovel.

The team stayed in Baltimore Friday night and went down to Annapolis Saturday to cross blades with the Navy. It was the first time Hamilton had met the Naval Academy in an intercollegiate contest. The Navy showed superiority in the duelling sword and took all four of the epee bouts. Callaway, one of their epee team, was runner-up for the individual championship last year at the intercollegiate in New York. Scovel and Callaway put on a long bout that lasted almost half an hour. It consisted of four engagements but the judges were unable to agree in their decisions until Callaway scored a clean touch on the arm. The sabre team broke even in their bouts, winning and losing two bouts. Captain Ogilvie defeated Eskilson, 5-4, and Johnson, '24, defeated Price, 5-4. Both Hamilton men were defeated by Woodyard, a left-hander. In the foil bouts Hamilton surprised the Navy by taking five of the nine bouts. Packer did brilliant work in his three bouts, defeating Speer, 5-1, Stubbs, 5-3, and Captain Grandfield, 5-1. His straight lunges were well-timed and proved a problem to the Navy defense. His decisive defeat of the Navy captain, Gamache and Shaw both showed up well for the high school lads.

Foils

Packer defeated Stubbs, 5-3.
Packer defeated Speer, 5-1.
Packer defeated Grandfield, 5-1.
Speer defeated Kittell, 5-3.
Stubbs defeated Kittell, 5-1.

RELAY TEAM TO MEET COLGATE

Try-Outs for Team to be Held Few Days Before Meet—Colgate to Oppose Hamilton with Veteran Team—Track Prospects Bright

Next Saturday will occur the first intercollegiate competition of the track season when a Hamilton relay team will oppose Colgate as a feature of the indoor track carnival to be held in the Utica Armory. Each man will run 300 yards. Because of the small amount of practice held thus far, try-outs for the team will not be held until a few days before the meet.

Colgate has a veteran team, consisting of Granning, Fuller, Rall and McAmmond. They have been practicing all winter under Coach Jack Rourke and have engaged in several indoor track meets, in one of which they defeated Syracuse and equalled the Syracuse indoor record for the distance. They will enter the race decided favorites over the Hamilton men, who are entirely without experience on a board track, having been practicing on the indoor cinder track in the Athletic Building.

Hamilton's championship relay team of last year retains two of its members, Alexander and Valentine Allison, '24, but has lost Watson Thompson, '23, and Alfred Morris, ex-'23. For this year's team, besides the Allison brothers, there are a number of excellent candidates. Thomas, '25, one of last year's promising quarter-milers, will not be able to run in this meet because of illness. Among the other candidates are Morris, '25, Rogers, '25, and Watkins, '25.

The team selected for this meet is quite likely to be substantially the same one which will represent Hamilton in the Penn Relays on April 25 and 26.

Prospects for the spring schedule of meets are quite bright. Hamilton's track team, which has lost but one meet in two years, will keenly feel the loss of Watson Thompson, '23, the most famous distance runner ever developed at Hamilton. He ran in the mile and half-mile. Yates, '23, in the two-mile, Penn, '23, in the hurdles and broad jump, and Art Warren, '23, in the pole vault and javelin throw will all have to be replaced.

Captain Alec Allison, holder of the college record for the 100 and 220-yard dashes, can be relied on for places in all three sprints. Thomas, '25, in the quarter, and Rogers, '25, in the hundred, should develop into valuable point-getters. V. Allison, '24, should do well in the half-mile, and Russell Thompson, '25, and Watkins, '25, should be a strong combination for the mile. Clark, '25, cross-country captain, is a veteran in the two-mile and should repeat his excellent performances of the past two years. Richards, '26, also did well in this event last year. H. Valentine, '25, will probably be Hamilton's strongest entry in the hurdles.

Hamilton will be considerably weaker in the field events. Men will have to be developed for the broad jump and pole vault. Ireland, '26, will be valuable man in the high jump. Michaels, '26, seems a likely contender in the javelin throw. Brush, '24, and McGiffin, '24, should materially strengthen the Buff and Blue by a continuation of their excellent work of former years in the weight events.

—Dr. William P. Shepard will give a talk on "The Popular Ballot" Wednesday evening, March 12, in the Kirkland Town Library.

FRESHMEN DEFEAT NEW YORK MILLS

Fresh Basketeers Have no Trouble in Winning Against New York Mills High School by a 31-14 Score

The freshman basketball team came through with a sweeping victory over New York Mills High School Wednesday evening in Soper Gymnasium by a score of 31-14. The game was fast and hard fought, although the freshmen showed their ability to score almost at will. The New York Mills team showed a fine fighting spirit throughout the game.

Hamilton made extensive substitutions, an entire second team playing the last period. New York Mills' best asset was its ability to shoot fouls, as it made 8 of its 14 points on foul shots.

Howk played best for the freshmen. Although he took part in only about half the game, he scored 15 points. Gamache and Shaw both showed up well for the high school lads.

Donahue started the game off with a rush by caging a basket within the first five seconds of play. Springmann then followed with another goal and Donahue shot a foul. Leach started the scoring for New York Mills with a long shot from near the center of the court. Shaw ended the scoring for the first quarter by shooting a foul just as the bell rang. The period ended 5-3 in favor of the freshmen.

In the second quarter the yearlings increased their lead to 15-6. Burns and Springmann each accounted for a goal and Howk, who went into the game at the start of this quarter, shot three in rapid succession.

At the start of the second half, the freshmen began where they had left off. Howk, Burns, and Springmann making goals. The rest of the scoring in the third quarter was confined to two more field goals and a foul goal by Howk and three foul shots by Shaw and Gamache.

Soon after the last quarter began, an entirely new team took the floor for the freshmen. Play was about even in this period, each team making 5 points. Slauson and Howk scored field goals and Belden a foul goal for the freshmen.

DR. FERRY SPENDS SHORT VACATION IN FLORIDA

President Frederick C. Ferry is today returning from a short vacation at Seabreeze, Fla. He left Clinton a week ago last Friday, Feb. 29th. He arrived at his destination early the following day. Dr. Alexander C. Soper is also staying at Seabreeze. Dr. Ferry reported no snow after leaving Virginia, and by the time the train reached Carolina the windows were all open. The weather in Florida would be ideal June weather for us. On his way home, Dr. Ferry is to address the Summit, N. J., Athenaeum. The trip to Florida was made by rail.

AID ASKED FOR STUDENTS IN EUROPE

Contributions to be Made Wednesday for Needy European Students—Planned to Make Minimum $2

MR. RICH SPEAKS

8,000 Students in Holland Raise $70,000—Harvard Subscribes $2 a Man

A genuine appeal for help has come to the undergraduates of Hamilton from the Student Friendship Fund in behalf of the thousands of destitute students of Central Europe, Russia and the Near East.

It is difficult for us to realize the true situation with which we are confronted. Living conditions on this Hill of ours are so ideal, and every need so carefully considered that we are prone to take conditions for granted. But supposing on the other hand, there were no Carnegie Hall, South or North Colleges, and no comfortable fraternity houses, what would happen? Supposing notice were given that Commons would serve only one scanty meal a day, what would we think? Imagine the abolition of all the athletic contests for this spring because there was not enough food to make the athletes physically fit. If the imagination of the average student on this Hill can be stretched that far, then he will have some idea of the circumstances in which his fellow European student is.

This article does not have to go into detail describing the painful situation among the European students after listening to Mr. Raymond Rich, Brown, '22, speak in chapel on Saturday morning. Just a few additional concrete facts offer enough proof of the very alarming economic situation.

"A Russian professor's salary can be paid for two months with an American five-dollar bill. The same amount will provide a day's food for 100 students, or buy a suit of clothes for one. Forty scientific textbooks can be bought for $5. Only $1.50 will provide a meal a day for one student for a month."

It is not only in the United States that the students of the colleges and the universities are raising money, but in Holland 8,000 students raised $70,000, and in England every student has subscribed a shilling. It is interesting to note, by way of comparison, what other institutions are giving. Harvard's quota was a little over $2 a man. In Barnard and in Teachers' College the students contributed to the amount of $1,500 to $1,800. Yale, Smith, Simmons, and M. I. T. have already raised $14,000. Smith leads with $6,000. In some colleges the amount has gone as high as $4 a student.

It is the plan of those in charge here at Hamilton to make the minimum quota $2 a man. The drive on the Hill has the hearty endorsement of the faculty. The collection will be taken Wednesday morning in chapel.

This is an exceedingly fine opportunity for the students of Hamilton to do some constructive work toward the establishment of international peace, for now may be secured the friendship of the European students who in the near future will be holding the reins of government.

LITTLE FALLS HIGH DEFEATS FROSH

Freshmen Basketball Team Unable to Overcome Fast Opponents in Last Game of Season—Score 43-26

For the second time this season the freshman basketball team was forced to bow in defeat, when they went down before the superior playing of Little Falls High on the latter's court last Friday. The Little Falls quintet boasts of one of the best high school teams in this section of the state and scored their eighth consecutive win in walloping the first-year bunch by a final score of 43 to 26.

Scoring from every part of the floor and repeatedly slipping through for close shots, the home team was leading 19 to 3 at the half. Showing a complete reversal of form in the third and fourth periods, McBride's crew played their opponents on practically even terms in the second half. The score for the final half was 24 to 23 in favor of Little Falls.

Little Falls started off with a rush and counted three field goals in rapid succession after the game started. The freshmen settled down after this initial burst of speed on the part of their opponents and played a tight defensive game. Little Falls, however, managed to add gradually to their score, while holding the visitors to their score.

Musical Clubs.

In one of the recent Musical Club concerts one or two of the features of the program did not receive the approval of the undergraduates present, and this fact was demonstrated in no mistakable manner. The acts may not have had a single redeeming feature. The string quartette may have been out of tune or the monologue merely obscene. This is not a criticism of the program but taken as an illustration. Nevertheless, the students could have displayed a better spirit of co-operation in making the concert a success by at least refraining from caustic comments and actions. If any criticism is to be made, it should be taken to the management and leaders of the Clubs in private and not paraded before the world at large as occurred last week.

The attitude of an audience toward any college event is largely determined by the attitude of the students attending. The undergraduate is taken as the criterion in judging the performance. If he shows displeasure at the program, the audience will reflect this immediately, and the effect of that particular act may be spoiled. On the other hand, an audience will be quick to pick up a spirit of approbation and the act will "go over big." Nothing is quite so disheartening as to be forced to perform before a displeased audience. The Clubs represent the college, and the success or failure of part of the program is a reflection on the college as a whole. When students can do so much to make an affair of this kind a success by seeming, at least, to appreciate the performance, personal feelings should be laid aside and the good of the college considered.

Intercollegiate Debate.

With the cessation of varsity winter sports at this time of year comes the opening of the intercollegiate debate season. The first debate is the annual triangular debate between Lafayette, Union, and Hamilton and is scheduled for Friday evening. This event has become a classic in debating circles and is watched with great interest throughout the East. Last year Lafayette won the contest by defeating both Union and Hamilton. There is no reason why the laurels should not return to Hamilton this year. The outcome of the debate depends to a great extent on the student body of the college. A debater cannot make a good showing unless he feels he has the support of his college. A speaker is influenced even more than a participant in an athletic contest by the size and attitude of the audience. If the number of undergraduates attending a debate in Chapel is small, the speakers cannot but feel that the support of the college is lacking. The danger is that this attitude of indifference on the part of the majority of undergraduates will be transmitted to the men on the platform and a poor debate will be the result.

Debating is a college activity and should be given whole-hearted support as such. A winning forensic team brings credit to the college as well as a winning football team. Men who take part in intercollegiate debates spend a great deal of time preparing every possible argument and device to win a debate. The glamor of men in evening clothes fluently discussing questions of great national or international interest is preceded by late evenings of drudgery over books and in conferences. The members of a team work hard to win the contest for the college and deserve its support.

It is true that many students profess to be bored by a debate. Sometimes this is not so much the fault of the debate as of the listener. However, those who attend a Chapel contest might be surprised to find out how really interesting a good debate may be. The exchange of amenities on the platform by representatives of rival institutions often becomes highly entertaining. Many times an incident occurs in a debate which is worth sitting through the presentation of heavier material to hear.

Attendance at a debate should not be merely a matter of duty, however. As has been mentioned before, a debate may be, and usually is, highly interesting. Furthermore there is no better way to become acquainted with the pros and cons of public questions than to listen to a clear, convincing debate. Members of the teams read over all available material and then present the most important and effective arguments. For instance, a rather hazy idea of the World Court may be changed into a definite bit of information on the subject which could be put to good use when involved in an informal discussion of public affairs outside of college circles. In short, an undergraduate in attending a debate will gain valuable information, often be entertained, and certainly be supporting a worthy college activity.

College Men and the Teapot Dome.

A Washington reporter who has been working on the Teapot Dome oil scandal recently informed a student at Hamilton College that the problem now was not so much to reveal all the phases of maladministration in Washington as to conceal them. He stated that the probers are beginning to fear that if even one half of the facts are brought to light, the faith of the people will be so shaken in the present government that an uprising similar to the Fascisti movement in Italy will be the result.

The college man of today, who will be the executive and legislator of tomorrow, cannot take this lesson too seriously to heart. The only way to maintain the public faith in a republican form of government is by the strict exercise of probity and honesty by those in power. If the danger of this crisis is passed safely, the younger generation must show by their conduct when in the future they are put in places of public trust that the distressing time through which we are now passing was not in vain.

"Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

IS the way a JOHN HANCOCK salesman described his work. He is a college graduate and in five years has put himself at the very top of his business. He never yet has called upon a prospect without a previous appointment. The best life insurance salesmen today work on that plan, making it a business of dignity, such as any worthy and ambitious college graduate can find satisfying to his mental needs, and highly remunerative as well.

The man above quoted is the John Hancock's youngest general agent. This shows what college graduates of the right type can do in this business, how they can build up earning power and at the same time provide for an accumulated competence for the years to come.

Graduation is a vital period in your life and you are liable to hold to the business you start in. It would be well before making a definite decision to inquire into life insurance as a career. Address, "Agency Department."

WILLIAMS is a wonderfully popular shaving cream. Here's why:—It's heavier, faster-working lather, the way it lubricates the path of the razor and eliminates painful friction, the soothing ingredient which keeps the skin so smooth and cool even in daily shaving—these are qualities men like! They also like its purity—no artificial coloring. With the new Hinge-Cap, Williams is winning more friends than ever before. See if you ever used a shaving cream as good.

Carpe Diem

The Holley-Pottle debate will be held in Commons on St. Patrick's evening. The question: "Are the five senses necessary for the practical Commons boarder?" Holley, who has been retained by the sympathetic and ur-table element, will be aided in his defense by the Rev. O. Glendower Roberts, the well-known spellbinder. Pottle has a galaxy of stars including George Burroughs, on his side. Rev. Post and Prof. R. C. (regular commissary) Super, one of the foremost gastronomic experts, have kindly consented to act as judges. The Oxford plan is to be used and the defendant has consented to have a test menu served in which the best hands in college will have a part. Dr. Super was recently overheard saying, "Now, I don't know, I'm not so fussy. Believe me, a thing has got to be pretty bad, pretty poor—before you'll see me turning it down. I eat anything. I remember once when I was in Granada, we had fricassee pigs' feet and (long drawn out gasp and 18 mile look) Limburger cheese sauce (lipsmacking, and it was the most delicious thing I ever tasted." Rumor has it that Bud Pottle is seeking a mandamus order to show cause why Dr. Super should not be disqualified.

The relentless truth-seeking reporter later called at the D. U. House, where he briefly tabulated the following:

Freeman's semi-annual haircut was celebrated last week.

Duke Thompson was found hiding under the Morris chair when the Utica creditors recently assailed the room. The Duke, losing his former bravado, slinking back, uttered something to the effect: "Please don't tell anybody about it. Haven't I always paid you for your flowers in the past? We're all right now. Can't you just trust me until I can earn some money?"

The advance agent, Rodolph Cheveraux, has a blanket contract for 23 Syracuse sorority dames for Spring House Party. According to the agreement, the sisters are to reciprocate providing they are satisfied. And Chev says it'll take more than Chesterfields to fill the bill.

Fred Seovel is already violently in love with a Washington street lady. "Just watch me," Fred says, "I fill all her little heart's desires."

Fleischmann just turned down an offer to appear on Keith's circuit saying his repertoire was too refined for the average vaudeville goer of today. But from his henchman, Ryan, our reporter learned that his recurrent disrelish of the domestic fowl ovum will probably cause his retirement from the legitimate stage for an indefinite period.

Carpe called up the Lambda Chi house and heard coming from the receiver the words "Beta Kappa house." Whereupon a roar of howls ascended in the vicinity. Carpe wonders why Mulford stood up in class on the following day. By the way, have you noticed how gracefully the Lambda Chi's stand around with their hands in their pockets and their coats carelessly thrown open?

From the way it looks now, the only intarmurals that will be played will be a bridge tournament between the Chi Psi invineibles, Abie Johntra and Pung Chow Pope, and the Alpha Delt whizzers, Bung Richards and Elmer Shoferne Duff.

Stopping at the Sig House, we found George Bebee in the act of drowning a rat. Says George, "These plaguey pests are just infesting our house. They're something fierce. Why they gave me this Pi-eyed Piper job is more than I know."

Jaqueline: "I'm cold, Jack; take me inside your coat."
Jack: "Pay before you enter; this is a Finchley one man coat."

Another call for candidates in this season of try-outs, seniors will do well to respond to the call for candidates which progressive business organizations are making.

The visit of the various company representatives offers a mutual opportunity. It puts you in position to judge whether a particular company offers sufficient scope to your ability and ambition. The representative can judge, after conversing with you and studying your record, whether you would be well placed in his company.

Do not ignore the invitation to these interviews. Do not be one of those—and they are many—who next Fall will write to the larger companies, "At the time your representative visited my college I did not think that I was interested in the work of your company and so did not meet him".

Men who are earnest in wanting to make the team usually respond to first call

DEBATE SEASON OPENS FRIDAY EVENING

Hamilton Meets Lafayette in Chapel and Union in Schenectady in Annual Triangular Debate

The regular debate season will open on Friday evening when two Hamilton teams oppose Lafayette and Union in the annual triangular debate. This will be the fourth triangular debate with these colleges, and Hamilton is hoping to win a decisive victory this year. Buff and Blue debaters have broken even in the last two of these debates, winning at home but losing on their opponents' platforms. Two years ago they defeated Lafayette here, but lost to Union. Last year they won from Union here but lost to Lafayette, at Easton. Lafayette also won from Union at Schenectady last year.

The question for the triangular debate this year is: "Resolved, that the present immigration law is inadequate to meet the existing immigration situation."

The debate with Lafayette will be held in the College Chapel, when the Hamilton team, consisting of Frederick W. Fuess, '24, Capt., John C. Toaz, '25, and Hamilton H. Bookhout, '27, with Glenn B. Snyder, '25, as alternate, will uphold the negative of the question against the Lafayette affirmative team.

The Hamilton negative team, which is made up of William G. Lewi, '24, Capt., J. William Walbridge, '26, and Noah T. Barnes, '27, with John D. Gregory, '25, as alternate, will travel to Schenectady to oppose Union.

The next debate will be held here on March 28, when a Hamilton team will uphold the affirmative of the World Court question against a St. Lawrence team. Debates with Allegheny and Middlebury complete the schedule.

BASEBALL SQUAD STARTS PRACTICE

Particular Stress Put on Battery Work —Four Letter Men from Last Year —Large Squad Reports

With the close of the hockey and basketball seasons, the baseball squad is starting daily practice in the gymnasium. A large number of veterans and new men turned out Monday for the first work-out of the year.

Cage practice will last until about the middle of April, by which time it is hoped that the diamond will be in condition for use. Coaches Prettyman and McBride are confining practice at first to a work-out on fundamentals, including battery work, sliding, batting and general loosening up. The squad will soon be divided up into sections, as the number of men is too large to be handled at one time. Particular stress is being put on battery work, as Captain Gifford is the only letter-man hurler left from last season. Marks and Nicholson are expected to develop into reliable pitchers, although neither has had much experience.

Beside Captain Gifford, four other letter men remain from last year's nine around which this year's team will be formed. These men are Potte, '24, first base, Hatch, '25, outfield, Morris, '25, catcher, and Courtean, '26, shortstop. This leaves two infield and two outfield positions to be filled before the first game. Martin, '26, who was ineligible last season, is sure to make a strong bid for a position in the outfield. The New York Mills boy is fast on his feet and a hard hitter.

Little is known of the freshman material as it will be impossible to give the first year men a real chance to perform until the squad moves outdoors. McLean, '27, and Sareka, '27, have both had good prep school records, and are expected to develop into Varsity material.

From last year's squad the following men should all make a strong bid for Varsity berths: Yule, '24, McLean, '24, Marks, '24, Williams, '25, Griffiths, '25, Aitken, '25, Hutchens, '26, Payne, '26, Nicholson, '26, Brush, '26, and Ricketts, '26.

Manager Sessions has arranged a fine schedule for this season which will be announced later after faculty approval.

EPISCOPAL BISHOP GIVES PEACE TALK

Secretary of Fellowship of Conciliation Addresses College Audience in Chapel Sunday Afternoon

The Right Reverend Paul Jones, a bishop in the Episcopal Church, and secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, addressed a small group in the Chapel last Sunday afternoon on the subject, "Can We Prevent War?" He had spoken in two churches in Utica in the morning and consented to visit the College in the afternoon.

The speaker began by emphasizing the long-continued use of war as a means of settling international disputes and the evidences of its recognition in education as shown by military training and by church service flags. War involves wholesale propaganda, much of it in the form of lies, to keep the nation in a mood to fight, according to Bishop Jones.

LITTLE FALLS DEFEATS FROSH

out a field goal. All three of the freshmen points in the first half were made from the 15-foot line.

The second half told a different story. The freshmen offense started working smoothly and the Buff and Blue yearlings outscored the home team in the third period, 12 to 11. Little Falls, however, had amassed too great a lead to be overcome before the end of the game.

Bennett, Little Falls forward, was the bright light of the game. His eight fielders for a total of sixteen points gave him the scoring honors for the evening. Doling, Bennett's running mate, also had a good evening with five ringers. Stone with eight points and Springmann with seven did the heavy work for the defeated five.
